MESSAGE

I am glad to know that the Orissa University of Agriculture and Technology (OUAT) Dynamic Website is being launched on the occasion of the University's 55th Foundation Day on August 24, 2016.

OUAT has a distinct reputation as the second oldest agriculture university in the country. Being the lone farm university in the State it carries the onerous responsibility to meet the expectations and needs of farming community on sustainable basis. It is heartening that OUAT is at the forefront with its continued emphasis and focus on quality education, research and extension education. The University deserves appreciation for its outstanding achievements over last five decades. However, the challenge remains on how to make agriculture and allied sectors a profitable profession with the application of farmer and climate friendly technology. I wish the University will continue to strive for excellence.

The endeavour to launch a Dynamic Website of OUAT on the foundation day of the university is a laudable one. I am sure the farming community and all others concerned will find the website meeting their information queries.

I wish the occasion all success.
